Got Volunteers? Need Volunteers?

February 2015

Are you a non-profit organization? Do you utilize volunteers? According to the Corporation for National and Community Service, 29 percent of Indiana college students volunteered in 2013. How can you tap into that pool of talent? Post on JobZone!

The Office of Career Services is a huge advocate of volunteerism. It's a great way for students to gain professional experience, show employers they are willing to go that extra mile for their community, and expand their networks.

You can use our JobZone website to advertise these opportunities to our students at no charge. Students are already on JobZone looking for internship and job opportunities, so why not target them where they are? Plus, once a week we email our students with the latest opportunities related to their majors. What a great way to connect to exactly who you're looking for. Need interpreters? Great! We'll make sure those postings get sent out to our College of Arts and Sciences, which houses all of our foreign language majors. Need someone to work with kids? We'll send those postings to our education majors. If you have an existing JobZone account you can log in and post your volunteer positions just like any other; just select Volunteer as the position type. Not on JobZone? Set up a free account! If you have any questions call us at 260-481-0689 for more information.
